ESS 2nd Annual Invitational Football Tourney

This weekend, YES, this weekend, the ESS will be holding it's annual football tourney. There are some teams already signed up, but we want more! This is flag football, so no one has to worry about getting hurt. The sign up fee for a team is $ 20 per team member and that includes a tee-shirt. There will be an $8 discount to anyone who billets a member of another team. The invited schools include:

- UBC
- SFU
- U of C (Calgary)
- U of A (Alberta)

There is an official list of events and rules available in the ESS office. The basic rules are as follows:

- Maximum 8 guys on each team, but you can have 10 players if you have 2 women. Therefore, recruit some women and you'll have more players on the field.
- To determine which teams have kick-off advantage, drinking games are held the night before and what ever team wins, gets the advantage.

So come on out and have a good time.

For more info talk to Doug Bryan or Daryl Storey in the ESS office.

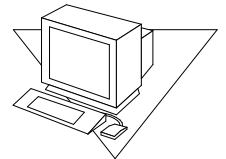

Please note that if you can't get a team together, just sign onto any other team you like.

Have you all been doing alot of

ESS/CSCU WELCOME BACK STUDENT/FACULTY MIXER

On Friday, September 30 at 3:00 PM, you (all Engr/Comp Sci Students) are invited to attend the welcome back mixer. This is a chance for you to get to know your Profs, as well as your fellow students. This is also a chance to get some cheap food ($1 / plate). The food will be a BBQ. There will be a BEvERage gardens, as well as some pop for you non-alcohol type. The Dean will make his first appearance this year, as well, other faculty members are invited. This event is being held at the Coffee Garden Patio at Cadboro Commons

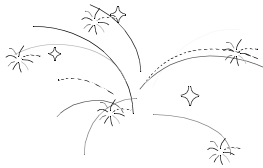

So Come to the ESS General Meeting at 1:30 (see back page) and then head over here. We hope to see you all there. For any more info, drop in the ESS office.

ONLY 94 DAYS TILL CHRISTMAS!

ESS GENERAL MEETING

The ESS is holding it's annual General Meeting on September 30 at 1:30 PM. The main purpose is to let you all know what we are doing this term.

THERE WILL BE FREE DOUGHNUTS!

The location will be announced in class, and on posters, so look around.

There will be a by-election for the new Sports Coordinator. So if you are interested in joining the few, the proud, the awesome, come down and let us know.

We will also be recruiting volunteers for a bunch of positions, including help for the Fishwrap.

Come to the ESS General Meeting and then head over to the Student/Faculty Mixer.

Don't Let This Happen To You!

Get WECCed

Kjell Wooding

WECC '95 is looking for volunteers.

So just what the heck is WECC? The Western Engineering Conference and Competition is the annual gathering of Engineering students in Western Canada.

Over 80 engineers from Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta, and BC will converge on the Laurel Point Inn in downtown Victoria from February 15-19, 1995. There they will meet, compete, socialize, and take part in conference activities related to this year's theme: The Information Explosion.

WECC is a student-organized, student-run conference, and right now, we're looking for students to just that. If you're like to help plan, fundraise, organize, publicize, or just drive around the city aimlessly for us, come to the first organization meeting of the term: Thursday, September 29, 5:30pm. Meet at the ESShole (EOW 130), and we'll move someplace more comfortable afterwards.

Remember, WECC is only happening this year. Don't miss your chance to participate in this great event.
